From the Board of Directors

Members of BOCONEO, we are putting this out as a general statement. If it applies to you, please take heed, if not disregard. It has been brought to our attention, and we have witnessed, many side conversations taking place during the training presentations.

This type of activity not only disrupts the presentation and concentration, but also is disrespectful to the speaker and your fellow members. There may be a time that you need to make a comment to your neighbor. However, the conversations about the last vacation or plans for the evening should not take place in class. If you must have a conversation or take a call, please take it to the lobby or outside.

BOCONEO makes every effort to provide each member with continuing education credits to maintain your certifications. Let us all please be courteous to the presenters and fellow members during the classes. Thank you.

This is our last meeting before the summer break. We hope you can join us at the Golf Outing Friday, July 15th. Have a safe, happy, fun filled summer and we'll see everyone in September.
